Norton Haas took as his subject "Our Dreams" and said that it had been their dream to complete the eighth grade and that all future dreams would be easier to realize because they had completed this much of their education but said without hard work none of the dreams will ever be realized.

The address of welcome was given by the class president, Teddy Morel. Mrs. Carl Smith presided at the piano and the junior girls chorus made up of girls from the eighth grade sang the Owl Song and Tommy January sang a solo.

Emile J. Gex former graduate of the school and honor student at the University of Mississippi addressed the class. Mr. Gex spoke on the cost of education at this period. He said Education is for all people in all walks of life but it is not free. It must be bought and paid for with hard work.

Sam Favre, Jr., County Superintendent of Education presented the diplomas to the class.

The girls formed a pretty picture as they marched up the aisle in their white dresses with shoulder corsages of spring flowers and the boys wore white suits. Mrs. John Kidd was the sponsor for the class. The exercises were presided over by Supt. S. J. Ingram.

91ST ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT AT ST. STANISLAUS

Laverne Albert Garcia was honor graduate of the senior class of St. Stanislaus and delivered the Valedictory at the Ninety-first Annual Commencement exercises held at the school on Sunday, May 27. Second honors went to Karl Joseph Fasold, Gulfport, who delivered the Salutatory address.

Lucien M. Gex, a former graduate of the school, made the address to the class. Right Rev. Msgr. A. J. Gmelch, presented the diplomas, and awarded the medals and certificates.

The processional and recessional were played by the school band. The band also gave two numbers "Libert Flect" March and "Sunbeam" overture. At the close of the program the "Star Spangled Banner" was sung.

The class of '45 is perhaps one of the youngest groups to finish at St. Stanislaus. The majority of them are in their seventeenth and eighteenth years. Few of them will have attained their eighteenth year by June first. The chief contributing factor to this lowering of the graduation age is the fact that many of this year's class were called into service prior to their reaching the final year in high school.

The class as a whole did their share in promoting the various activities throughout the school, whether these pertained to cultural, social or athletic affairs. They are boys the school is proud to send out as graduates but regret to see leave.

The following is the class roll: Donald James Arceneaux, Adolph Bourdin, Jean Edward Bourdin, Jr., Randolph C. Bourgeois, Jr., Wood Breazeale, Jr., Henry Francis Antoine Caire, Robert Eldon Carrington, Earle John Christenberry, Jr., Karl Joseph Fasold, Frederick Osborn Foster, Laverne Albert Garcia, Gilbert Damas Gavat, Jr., Ramond Cyril Guiffria, Francis Allen Gossen, Edwin Nicholas Haller, Jr., Forrest Lee Hayden, Tommy Joe Hepler, Walter Harvey Killeen, Durbin Bernhart Klempner, Dupe John LePoint, Jr., Ronald Chester McClure, Jr., Lawrence Elmo McFarlin, Julius Berchman McMahon, Enrique Jose Melendez, Thomas Sellers Meric, Rudolph Joseph Nieto, Jr., Joseph Leslye Nusz, Carlo Vincent Pisciotta, Harold Joseph Poche, Rudolph Ramelli, Jr., Joseph Reuther, Jr., Joseph Frederick Richardson, Henry Joseph Riley, Jr., Jorge Rivero, Jr., John St. Paul, III, Jorge Sada, Jr., Andrew Joseph Scalfie, Ernest A. Schofield, Philip Barinque Shall, Francis Joseph James Schubert, James Edward Smith, Francis Bertrand Walton, Jr., John J. Voelkel, III.

Walter Harvey Killeen and Joseph Karl Fasold were the winners of the Character Cup which is awarded each year to the boarder who holds the highest character record. This is the first year that two cups were awarded in the senior class. This is the most coveted award of the year and the boys who merit it must measure up from every standpoint of character.

Harvey Killeen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Killeen and his mother is the former Miss Laura Spori who spent most of her girlhood in Bay St. Louis and is a graduate of St. Joseph Academy. The Killeen family also maintain a summer home here.

Karl Fasold is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fasold of Gulfport and his parents are well known here.

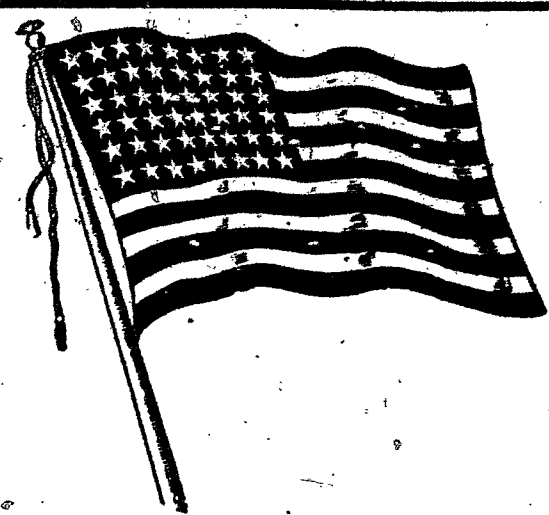

Mrs. Ada Holcombe Aiken Dies At New Orleans

Mrs. Ada Holcombe, wife of the late Dr. Gayle Aiken, died at her home in New Orleans on Tuesday, May 29 following a brief illness. Funeral services were held on Wednesday morning at Christ Church Cathedral at 10:30 and interment was in Metairie cemetery.

Mrs. Aiken leaves a daughter Miss Edith Aiken, New Orleans, head and founder of a private school for children of pre-grammar grade; four sons John Gayle Aiken, Jr., and Ralph Aiken, New Orleans; Rev. Warwick Aiken, rector Thinity Episcopal Church, Pass Christian and Christ Episcopal Church, Bay St. Louis and Dr. Charles Aiken, Houston, Texas; six grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Mrs. Aiken was a native of Water Proof, La., and lived for a short time in Natchez but the greater part of her life in New Orleans. She was known for her writings and her best known poems are "Greetings" written for strangers coming to New Orleans, "My Sailor" and "The Banner and the Stars" the latter written a year ago when Mrs. Aiken was 84 years of age.

Through this medium sympathy is extended to Rev. Warwick Aiken and John Gayle Aiken, Jr., who maintain a summer home here. In the passing of this estimable lady another link in the chain of the older families of Louisiana and New Orleans will be missing.

DR. JAMES T. NIX

HEROES rise from the battlefields, where lives are sacrificed for the causes of freedom and justice. When men are engaged in combat they rise to greater proportions. They are willing to give their lives to save the life of one of their comrades. When danger lies ahead for some one near and dear to us we cast aside all thought of what may happen and rush to their assistance. Danger and sacrifice mean nothing to a human who is under pressure; but many are the times that we forget the real unsung hero of this great Country, who does a labor of love, and fights the battle of life, Our Doctor. The man whose responsibility is far greater than the soldier on the battlefield. The man who at times holds our very life thread in his hands. The man who sacrifices his home life, the companionship of his wife, his children and his friends, and many of the pleasures of life, in his efforts to assist his fellow man. He drives on and on, never thinking of his own well being. Hours mean nothing to him. It is the thought of his patient that stands uppermost in his mind. That patient, whether rich or poor has become a part of him. It tears at his heartstrings when life begins to ebb from that listless body. He strives to do his all, which in many instances is not enough. God has willed otherwise.

Some few days ago this country lost one of its outstanding Doctors. One of its real unsung heroes, Dr. James T. Nix. One who devoted his life to his God, his profession, and his desire to help his fellow man. He gave his all so that mankind might live. A lovable character whose charities knew no bounds. Our Doctor and our Friend.

OUR HUMBLE TRIBUTE

IT IS with the greatest of pleasure that we dedicate this the Senior issue of our humble publication to our esteemed president of St. Stanislaus, Brother Casimir, S. C., the respected head of this venerable institution, has just completed his first year in that responsible office.

The session 1944-45 has proved a balmier year in the nearly a century of progress in education recorded at St. Stanislaus. During the past year the greatest enrollment in the annals of the school was noted. At the same time, Brother Casimir as the newly appointed president rose to the occasion in supervising and handling this overflow crowd so that at no time were the facilities of St. Stanislaus overtaxed to the inconvenience of a single scholar.

Brother Casimir is primarily an educator at all times. In this capacity he exercised constant vigilance over the intellectual progress of each and every student. He wasted no time in familiarizing himself with each individual scholar so that proper steps could be taken to insure the rapid development of the students entrusted to his care according to their respective talents.

As St. Stanislaus prides itself on the formation of the character of the boy, so Brother Casimir, in unison with the splendid faculty, led the charges along the paths of righteousness and gentlemanly conduct. The formation of good habits along with christian ideals was their constant objective.

All the extra-curricular activities were sanctioned by the president's wholehearted cooperation. No one enjoyed with greater enthusiasm or displayed more sincere sympathy than he when a well-earned reward was merited by his portage or some unfortunate mishap spelt defeat.

Finally, as a lover of good, clean outdoor exercise as a means of developing the students physically as well as mentally and morally, Brother Casimir enthusiastically endorsed a vigorous athletic program. As a consequence, St. Stanislaus enjoyed a prosperous year in the field of sports gaining several regional and district championships.

In conclusion, we salute Brother Casimir for his splendid work. We wish him continued success in the remaining years of administration at St. Stanislaus.—St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaw, May 25, 1945.

WHEN WE LOST THE FIGHT

IT was just at this stage of the last war that we lost the fight against inflation," declares Chester Bowles, Administrator of Office of Price Control, who fears that "we may make the same tragic mistakes again."

The continuation of our war against Japan may prevent Americans from jumping to the conclusion that the national emergency is over and that all controls should be abandoned. However, there will be a strong tendency to suggest that the Government end all artificial controls and the statement will be strongly expressed as defeat nears Japan.

This demand will be based upon the selfish efforts of some business men to take advantage of the situation and also upon the erroneous conclusion of many citizens that the cessation of hostilities removes the necessity for economic controls. Obviously this is not the case because many months will elapse before the national economy will have an opportunity to function under normal world conditions.

The situation is illustrated by the case of a man, taken to a hospital for a major operation. None of his relatives, if they expect him to live, suggest, as the surgeon sees him up, that the operation is over and that the patient return immediately to work. Everybody recognizes the inevitable after effects and the necessity for a period of convalescence.

In much the same sense, the national emergency has produced a profound shock to the nation's economy. While the operation of war may soon end successfully, there exists the necessity of a period of economic convalescence before any serious attempt is made to resume vigorous activity without regard to the effect of the strain of our wars.

Closing Exercises At St. Stanislaus Day School

The St. Stanislaus Day School, under the direction of Brother Florent, principal and Brother Carlos, assistant, closed its school session Monday morning, May 21st.

After thirty six weeks of study we all agree that the students need a vacation. In order to show our appreciation for the splendid work and spirit of the boys had during the year, many awards were given out at the closing ceremonies. We wish to thank all those kind benefactors who make these awards possible.

The first prize was given to the best pupil in each room by the Engman family. These beautiful prizes went to Gerald Coludrovich and Robert Boudreaux.

After the boys had finished their Morning Prayers, had sung God Bless America and had received their awards, Brother Casimir, Principal of St. Stanislaus, then distributed the long awaited report cards. He congratulated many of the boys on their fine record.

Monsignor Gmelch complimented the boys, wished them a happy vacation, and gave them a few words of advice on the proper conduct during the vacation period.

Much praise is due to our Principal, Brother Florent. All who know him, realize that he has the interest of all the boys at heart. He works hard not only to give them spiritual,

surroundings

The increasing awareness of the public that beer is being sold more and more in wholesome surroundings is gratifying to this Committee.

Through a program of self-regulation, sponsored by the brewing industry, this committee cooperates with officials and the many conscientious retailers, for the public welfare. This is done by educating beer retailers as to their responsibilities and by eliminating those few who fail to maintain high standards of conduct.

Reports of our field men show conclusively that the level of law observance in retail beer outlets is steadily being raised. Beer deserves its reputation as a beverage of moderation.

Opportunity To Enter Navy Still Possible

Because reports have been circulated that the Navy has ended its enlistment program which allows 17-year-old youths to volunteer for service, state recruiting headquarters in Jackson has advised that such is not the case up to this time and that the opportunity to volunteer for the Navy is still open to this age group.

In the specialized program for RADAR trainees a 12-month course of education is still offered to those who can pass the "Eddy Test" and V-5, the Naval Aviation 51-week training course was also open now, recruits enlisting for General Service, before their 18th birthday, are still being taken at all Navy recruiting stations.

Applicants are advised to bring their next of kin or legal guardian as well as a birth certificate, when applying at recruiting stations.

Beloved Americans you shall ever be!
Welcome Home!

All peoples know that from training camp, land, sea, and sky, you poured forth courage and power in such profusion as to crush the Hun, subdue the Jap, and make Freedom's torch shine the world around.

Grateful hearts rejoice at your returning, though reverently sorrowing for comrades so gloriously fallen.

Now you can resume your peaceful pursuits.

It is hoped that where possible every furloughed employee can come back to work with the great I&N family.

Your purpose will also be ours—to make homes happier, freedom sweeter and our South a finer and more prosperous place to live in.

Improvements, largely for war, have cost the I&N about $48,000,000. Its necessary service in war has been amply proven. Its peacetime usefulness is no less essential. Already its current and postwar budget exceeds $16,000,000.

The I&N hopes to add constructively to the South's development and to serve it. It seeks no special favors and only asks that its public treatment shall be fair and no less considerate than that granted its transportation competitors.

ORTIE THEATRE SUNDAY AND MONDAY "BETWEEN TWO WOMEN"

Van Johnson and Lionel Barrymore with Gloria DeHaven and Marilyn Maxwell

If it's fun and dramatic suspense you've been seeking in a single picture, your dish is "Between Two Women," the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer attraction which opens Sunday at the Ortie Theatre.

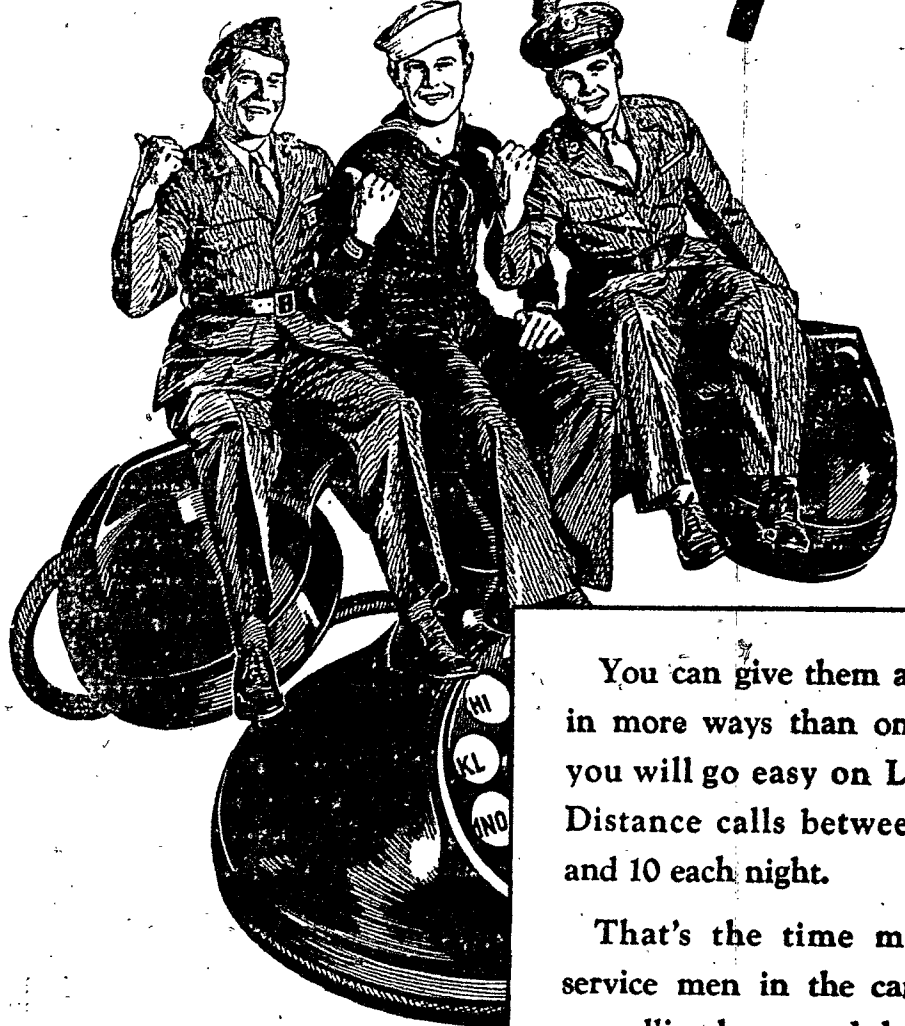

It's the exciting and absorbing story of a young doctor who is catapulted into the strange case of a seemingly healthy young singer who collapses in her dressing room after her performance at a night club where the physician has some of some well-deserved moments of relaxation.

This case, fascinating in itself, is only one part of the well-developed plot of "Between Two Women." Expertly worked in are the stories of the hospital's beloved switchboard operator, who is taken down with a mysterious ailment, and the doctor's romance with a captivating young heiress whom he refuses to marry because of the difference of their financial situations.

Johnson plays Dr. Randall (Red) Adams, and turns in an excellent job in this, his first individual starring picture, following the terrific impression he made on the movie-going public in such films as "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo," "A Guy Named Joe" and "Two Girls and a Sailor." Lionel Barrymore appears as Adams' mentor, Dr. Leonard Gillespie, and Marilyn Maxwell is the heiress in love with Adams. Gloria De Haven plays the lovely young singer, and Keenan Wynn is hilarious as the night club's master of ceremonies.

In all, "Between Two Women" is a kind of picture

HOW IS MY WIFE MAKING OUT?

We owe a debt to this man. Adding a worry is not the way to show our gratitude. The security of his wife and family depends upon us. Our job on the home front is to heed ceiling prices. Then we won't over buy and cause an increase in prices. We'll check the black market and make it easier for servicemen's wives and others with low, fixed incomes.

Those Married
with savings accounts
sleep soundly

Two things have always been known to cause sleeplessness:—(a) the illness of a member of the family, and (b) lack of ready cash funds. Regardless of your personal income, a fixed, definite amount should be set aside each week for your savings account. It will provide you more sound sleep than all of the medicines and nostrums that have ever been advertised. Start with a dollar, if necessary, but start today. This kind of teamwork pays big dividends.

WEDDING OF MISS VIRGINIA EDWARDS OF MUCH INTEREST

A wedding claiming much interest here where the bride's father was born and lived the greater part of his life, was that of Miss Virginia Edwards of Gulfport, daughter of Mrs. Edwin Wills Edwards of that city and the late Mr. Edwards and Alexander Wills Neale, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Neale of Washington, D. C., which was solemnized at St. John's Catholic Church at 10 a. m. on Tuesday, at Gulfport, Miss., the Rev. Msgr. H. A. Spengler performing the ceremony.

The altar was decorated with vases of white gladioli, lighted tapers and palms and baskets of white gladioli and calla lilies were placed on each side. Mrs. William Estopinal presided at the organ and Corporal Ray Smalover of Gulfport Field was vocalist. He sang Bach's, Gounod's and Schubert's "Ave Maria," Handel's "Largo" and "Frank's Panis Angelicus." As the processional Mrs. Estopinal played "The Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin and as the recessional Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

The bride entered the church on the arm of her uncle George H. Edwards of New Orleans, and was a lovely picture in a wedding dress of ivory satin fashioned with a fitted bodice and full flowing skirt. The bodice was made with a net yoke applied with satin scrolls and long fitted sleeves ending in cala points over the hands. The skirt was softly gathered to the hip length bodice and fell into a chapel train. She wore a fingertip veil of illusion with shorter face veil held in place with a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid and showered with white satin streamers. Her only ornament was a pearl sunburst which belonged to her great aunt.

She had as her only attendant and maid of honor, her sister, Miss Catherine Edwards who wore a Mousseline de Soire of pale blue with a neck length veil held in place with a deep red rose. She carried an arm bouquet of deep red roses.

Mr. Neale had as his best man Chief Luther Harrison and the ushers were Quintette Gillis, Sidney Rice, James Kennedy and O. Z. Hall.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride at 822 East Beach. Receiving with the wedding party were Mrs. Edwards, mother of the bride and Mrs. Neale, the bridegroom's mother. In the reception room were vases holding Shasta daisies and gardenias. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a four-tiered wedding cake which was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Streamers from the cake, which was encircled with white gardenias, held favors which a group of the bride's friends drew. White tapers in silver holders complemented the arrangements. After the bride and groom cut the first slice of cake Miss June Gillis assisted by Miss Elsie Terry of Greenville, served. Miss Sarah Boddie presided at the bride's register and tea girls assisting in serving were Misses Betty Joyce, Sarah Boddie, Eleanor Bernheim, June Gillis, Elsie Terry, Mesdames Max Golden, New Orleans and James Guinn.

Serving punch were Mesdames E. L. Kennedy, Wallace Weatherly, Lamar Griffin and Mrs. E. C. Upton of New Orleans.

For going away the bride wore a two piece suit of dark blue worn with a small white hat and accessories, and a white orchid shouldered corsage. After a honeymoon spent in the mountains of Pennsylvania the couple will be at home in Philadelphia.

The bride is a graduate of Gulfport High and Belhaven College and Mr. Neale is a graduate of Columbia University, Washington, D. C.

Out of town guests were the bridegroom's mother Mrs. A. W. Neale, Washington, D. C., Miss Elsie Terry, Greenville, Mrs. L. C. Upton, Miss Elizabeth and George H. Edwards, New Orleans; Mrs. E. J. Mesdames Mrs. P. G. Bernheim, Miss Elsie Spori, Misses Ida and May Edwards, Forter Commager and John K. Edwards, Bay St. Louis.
